Membership

1 Introduction

The X12 Board of Directors (Board) is responsible for this policy and the associated procedures. X12 members agree to adhere to X12's policies and procedures as a condition of membership. Non-member participants afforded specific collaboration privileges agree to adhere to X12's policies and procedures as a condition of those privileges. Any party may submit a revision suggestion via X12's online Feedback form.

2 Authority

X12 maintains corporate rules which define overall corporate policies and procedures. X12's primary organizational policies are established in the X12 Bylaws (CAP01). The policies established herein supplement the X12 Bylaws to establish X12's membership policies in full; no lower-level governance is permitted.

3 Background

X12 is a member-based organization and members are critical to organizational success. The X12 Bylaws define criteria for membership and other high-level membership policies. In accordance with the X12 Bylaws, detailed policies and procedures related to membership options, the granting and terminating of membership, member responsibilities, and member privileges are defined herein.

4 Membership Types

X12 recognizes two types of members, members and associate members. Additional membership types may be approved by the Board, with or without an amendment to this policy.

Member

A member is granted all privileges defined by X12 as a benefit of membership. This includes representation, collaboration privileges, and voting rights. A member's named representatives are eligible to hold elected or appointed office and access member tools.

Associate Member (Associate)

An associate member is granted a subset of the privileges defined by X12 as a benefit of membership. The specific privileges granted depend on the membership category.

5 Membership Categories

Categories have been established within the membership types to accommodate different situations. Except for reciprocal members, which may have specific restrictions or limitations defined within the corresponding formal agreement, all members within a membership category are eligible for privileges and responsibilities equal to all other members in the category.

Members are sub-divided into the following categories. Additional membership categories may be approved by the Board, with or without an amendment to this policy.

For-Profit Organization (FPO)

This category is open to entities operating without an IRS tax exemption under sections 501(c)(3) through 501(c)(9). FPO members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities.

Non-Profit Organization (NPO)

This category is open to entities operating with an IRS tax exemption under sections 501(c)(3) through 501(c)(9). NPO members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities.

Government Agency

This category is open to federal and state agencies, and departments or divisions operating under the auspices of such an agency. Government members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities.

Individual

This category is open to individuals who are unemployed or self-employed with no other employees. Individual members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities.

The following associate membership categories are established herein. Additional associate membership categories may be approved by the Board, with or without an amendment to this policy.

Academic Associate

This category is open to degree conferring academic organizations, for academic purposes only (teaching or academic research). Academic organizations with departments, divisions, or other components desiring membership for purposes other than teaching or academic research, may apply for membership under an FPO or NPO category. Academic members are entitled to participate in corporate activities and committee activities.

Honorary Associate

This category is an individual membership, open to established X12 member representatives who have actively, consistently, and positively participated in X12 activities, collaborations, and meetings over the past twelve to eighteen months and who subsequently retire. An Honorary Associate member must not be seeking new employment. An Honorary Associate who becomes employed during their membership term can finish their term but is not qualified for another term as an Honorary Associate. Honorary members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities.

Reciprocal Associate

This category is limited to organizations which are party to a formal agreement with X12 granting such a membership. Reciprocal members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities in accordance with the agreement between the reciprocal organization and X12.

RSC Associate

This category is designed for individuals and organizations that are not X12 members and intend to participate in the activities of the Registered Standards Committee (RSC) but not in the activities of the Accredited Standards Committee (ASC). RSC associate members are entitled to participate in corporate activities and RSC committee activities but are not eligible to attend ASC meetings or sessions or to participate in ASC activities.

Transitional Associate

This category is an individual membership, open to established X12 member representatives who have actively, consistently, and positively participated in X12 activities, collaborations, and meetings over the past twelve to eighteen months and who subsequently terminate employment with the X12 member they have represented. A Transitional Associate member must either be seeking new employment or be recently employed by a non-member organization that they intend to petition to join as members within the transitional period. Transitional associate memberships are strictly limited related to the number of terms permitted. The number of transitional associates is not permitted to exceed 3% of the total number of members. Transitional members are entitled to participate in corporate and committee activities.

6 Membership Applications and Renewals

X12 recognizes various types of memberships and associate memberships as described in the sections above. Section 6.1 describes the typical application and renewal policies and processes. There are 3 associate membership types, Honorary, Reciprocal, and Transitional, that do not adhere to the policies and processes described in Section 6.1. Two of those memberships, Honorary and Transitional associates, are open to organizations and individuals who meet the specific prerequisite requirements described in section 5. Section 6.2 describes the application and renewal policies and processes for those memberships. Reciprocal membership is granted and renewed based on a formal agreement between X12 and another organization, not on the submission of a membership application. For more information on reciprocal membership, contact X12's Chief Executive Officer (CEO) at ceo@X12.org.

6.1 Applications and Renewals

Applications

Except as noted in Section 6.2 below, any organization, entity, or individual not already recognized as an X12 member and desiring recognition as an X12 member, with the corresponding privileges and responsibilities, applies for membership via an online application form.

X12 staff reviews the application, verifying the submitted information and identifying the appropriate membership category. Membership is granted when the applicant provides all required information and remits the appropriate dues. A membership is effective immediately upon approval and remains active for the membership term. If the application is denied, staff provides a detailed explanation of the denial to the primary representative listed on the application.

Renewals

Members receive a renewal notice and periodic reminders prior to the end of their membership term. The member's primary representative is responsible for ensuring the appropriate dues are paid timely to prevent a lapse in member privileges. Membership renewal can either be processed online or via a renewal invoice.

Renewal is granted when the applicant provides all required information and remits the appropriate dues. A renewal is effective immediately upon expiration of the previous membership term. If the renewal is denied, staff provides an explanation of the denial to the member's primary representative.

If appropriate dues are not paid prior to the expiration of the membership term, all member privileges are suspended on the membership termination date.

6.2 Prerequisite Applications and Renewals

Two membership options, Honorary and Transitional associate memberships, are limited to individuals who meet specific prerequisite requirements described in section 5 and subject to approval by the X12 Board.

Applications

Individuals who meet those requirements request consideration using the application found on feedback form.

X12 staff reviews the application, verifying the submitted information and that the prerequisite requirements are met. X12 staff gathers supporting information such as length of participation as a member representative, attendance at Standing meetings, participation in corporate ballots, participation at interim meetings, and participation in online collaborations.

The X12 CEO reviews the application and supporting information and makes a recommendation to the Board. The Board may solicit input from committee chairs; however, the Board deliberations are privileged and confidential and must not be shared or discussed with any party. Upon an affirmative Board vote, the membership application is approved. Upon a negative Board vote, the membership application is denied.

If membership is granted, it is effective immediately upon approval and remains active for the membership term. If the application is denied, staff provides an explanation of the denial to the applicant.

Renewals

Transitional associate memberships are not renewable except in extenuating circumstances as approved by the X12 Board.

Renewal of an honorary associate membership is subject to the member continuing to meet the specific prerequisite requirements described in section 5. If the X12 CEO determines the member is still actively, consistently, and positively participating in X12 activities, collaborations, and meetings and is still retired, a renewal may be granted. If a renewal is not granted, staff provides an explanation of the denial to the member. If renewal is granted it is effective immediately upon expiration of the previous membership term.

7 Member Responsibilities and Privileges

As a condition of membership, members agree to certain conditions and responsibilities. Failure to abide by these conditions or meet these responsibilities may result in member sanctions, up to and including membership termination.

Conditions and responsibilities which apply to all, or most, memberships, regardless of membership category, are detailed in this section. Other conditions and responsibilities vary by membership category and are detailed in subsections below. Additional privileges and responsibilities may be afforded to members, with or without amendment of this policy.

1. Members agree that all X12 intellectual property, whether developed by X12 member representatives or staff, regardless of copyright or publication status, is the sole property of X12. Members, collectively or individually, do not have rights to such intellectual property and are not considered joint developers or joint copyright holders for any draft, final, or copyrighted X12 work.

2. Members are entitled to representation within X12.
 - a. Members agree that their named representatives will respect and adhere to all X12 policies and procedures.
 - b. Members agree that their named representatives will protect X12 draft, final, and copyrighted works and adhere to X12 intellectual property fair use policies and procedures.
 - c. Organizational members name one of their employees as the primary representative for their membership. The primary representative is not permitted to also represent another X12 member as a primary, alternate, or named representative. The primary representative is the official liaison between X12 and the member and has the following responsibilities.
 - i. Is authorized to speak on behalf of the member in X12 collaborations.
 - ii. Maintains an accurate roster of the member's authorized representatives, generally referred to as the named representatives.
 - iii. Receives all official X12 correspondence and distributes it to the member's other named representatives per the member's own policies and procedures.
 - iv. Communicates appropriately with the member's other named representatives.
 - v. Assists X12 with resolving any issues related to the membership, the member's roster, or the other named representatives.
 - vi. When appropriate, casts an informed vote on behalf of the member in corporate ballots or abstains.
 - d. For individual memberships, the primary representative is always the individual who applied for and was granted an individual membership.
 - e. Organizational members may be entitled to name one of their employees as the alternate representative for their membership. The alternate representative is not permitted to also represent another X12 member as a primary, alternate, or named representative. Alternate representatives may speak and vote on behalf of the member in the absence of the primary representative but are not entitled to a separate vote in ballots that are limited to one vote per member.
 - f. Organizational members may be entitled to name other of their employees to their roster. Representatives named on the member's roster are not permitted to also represent another X12 member as a primary, alternate, or named representative. Named representatives are not recognized as official liaisons between the member and X12, cannot vote in corporate ballots, and may not speak on behalf of the member related to corporate matters, although they may be empowered to speak or act on behalf of the member in certain X12 committee activities.
 - g. A member representative is never entitled to more than one vote in any X12 matter.
 - h. Members agree their representative(s) will receive email notices related to X12 activities and products.
 - i. Members agree their representative(s) may receive email communications from X12 that are related to an external organization's activities or products.
3. Members agree neither their representatives nor any other employees will speak on behalf of X12 to an external organization at any time or in any setting, unless specifically assigned that responsibility in writing by the X12 Board Chair, the X12 CEO, the Accredited Standards Committee (ASC) chair, or the Registered Standards Committee (RSC) chair.

4. Members agree to provide X12 staff with additional member or member representative information as requested during the membership period.

7.1 For-Profit Organization Member

In addition to the conditions and responsibilities detailed above, for-profit organization members have the following conditions and responsibilities.

1. Eligibility
 - a. Entities operating without an IRS tax exemption under sections 501(c)(3) through 501(c)(9).
 - b. For-profit organizations of varying complexity seek membership in X12. Such an organization may choose to have one membership at the highest level of their corporate structure or may choose to have their subsidiaries apply for separate memberships. Subsidiaries which become for-profit organization members in their own right are separately vested with all the privileges and responsibilities of membership. Subsidiaries which become for-profit organization members in their own right are not permitted to share with the non-member components of their organization any materials or information generally restricted to members.
2. Termination
 - a. For-profit organization memberships are terminated if not renewed by the end of the membership term.

 - f. Non-profit organization member representatives may access the Members Only website and other member collaboration tools.
 - g. Non-profit organization member representatives are expected to participate in development and maintenance activities.

- h. The primary representative of a non-profit organization member must confirm the member's representatives annually and may be asked to confirm the representatives at any other time.

7.3 Government Agency Member

In addition to the conditions and responsibilities detailed above, government agency members have the following conditions and responsibilities.

1. Eligibility
 - a. Federal and state agencies.
 - b. Departments or divisions operating under the auspices of a Federal or state agency.
 - c. Government agencies of varying complexity seek membership in X12. Government agencies may choose to have one membership at the agency level or may choose to have their divisions or subsidiaries apply for separate memberships. Subsidiaries which become government agency members in their own right are separately vested with all the privileges and responsibilities of membership. Subsidiaries which become for-profit organization members in their own right must not share with the non-member components of their agency any materials or information which is generally restricted to members.
2. Termination
 - a. Government agency memberships are terminated if not renewed by the end of the membership term.
3. Representatives
 - a. Government agency members must name a primary representative.
 - b. Government agency members are entitled to name an alternate representative.
 - c. Government agency members are entitled to designate an unlimited number of representatives.
4. Participation/Privileges
 - a. Government organization member representatives are entitled to complimentary Standing Meeting registration.
 - b. Government agency member representatives are entitled to participate in corporate activities.
 - c. The government agency member's primary representative is entitled to vote on corporate matters.
 - d. Government agency member representatives are entitled to serve in elected or appointed positions.
 - e. Government agency member representatives are eligible to participate in committee, subcommittee, task group or work group activities, and may be afforded voting privileges in those groups dependent on the requirements of the applicable policies and procedures.
 - f. Government agency member representatives may access the Members Only website and other member collaboration tools.

- g. Government agency member representatives are expected to participate in development and maintenance activities.
- h. The government agency member's primary representative must confirm the member's representatives annually and may be asked to confirm the representatives at any other time.

7.4 Individual Member

In addition to the conditions and responsibilities detailed above, individual members have the following conditions and responsibilities.

1. Eligibility
 - a. Individuals who are not employed by any organization or entity.
 - b. Individuals who are self-employed, with no other employees.

 - f. A transitional member may access the Members Only website and other member collaboration tools.
 - g. A transitional member is expected to participate in development and maintenance activities.

8 Information Disclosure

The term "information" includes demographic, financial, organizational, contact information, and other details provided by a member or a member representative to X12 staff as part of membership application, membership renewal, or any specific request as well as information related to meeting registration, meeting or session attendance, online collaboration participation, and voting.

Disclosure and use of member and representative information is authorized and constrained as follows.

1. X12 staff and elected leaders access member and representative information only as required to conduct official duties.
2. X12 may provide a member list on the public website, such a list only contains the member's name.
3. X12 may provide a meeting registration or attendance list on the public website, such a list only contains the member's name.

4. Summarized meeting or session attendance information may be freely distributed as deemed appropriate by the Board, X12's CEO, and Committee chairs.
5. To facilitate an official X12 communication, and at the direction of X12's CEO or a committee chair, X12 staff may provide a member's primary representative with the email address of another member's primary representative.
6. To facilitate management of the member's representatives, a member's primary representative may have access to Standing Meeting registration and attendance information for any of the member's representatives. However, the member's primary representative is not entitled to attendance information for individual sessions conducted at a Standing Meeting nor to Interim Meeting attendance information.
7. X12 staff and elected leaders use a member representative's attendance information only as necessary for the granting of specific privileges within X12, a committee, or a subordinate group. Detailed attendance information is not used for any other purpose.
 - a. Based on the X12 CEO's confirmation of a documented need for the information, detailed participant information, which includes only the attendee's name, email address, and the associated member name, may be reported to a committee chair, subcommittee chair, or subordinate group chair.
 - b. Recipients of detailed participant information are not permitted to distribute or disclose the detailed participant information to any other individual or group.
6. Regardless of the source of the information, committee, subcommittee, and subordinate group chairs and secretaries are not permitted to use detailed participation information to provide summaries or statistics related to a specific individual to any party, including the associated member's primary representative.
7. When necessary to conduct official X12 business, X12 staff may provide a member or representative list with contact information to another entity, organization, or individual with a non-disclosure agreement. Otherwise, the information is never disclosed to any external organization, entity, or individual.
8. Except as identified above, information is not provided publicly or to any member representative.

9 Membership Dues

Member dues are a critical component of X12's financial viability. X12 strives to maintain a revenue balance that ensures implementers who derive value from X12 products bear most of the costs of supporting the organization. As such, the Board reviews dues assessments and other member fees at regular intervals and establishes member dues at the lowest level that allows for adequately funded organizational activities and initiatives. Current dues assessments are listed on the membership page at x12.org.

As a normal course of business, the Board may increase dues annually by not more than 2.5% in any membership category or institute any dues reduction. Should the Board determine it necessary to increase dues by more than 2.5% in any membership category, the Board must solicit input on the adjustment from the committee oversight groups, Steering and the Council. At least 30 calendar days must be allotted for the committee oversight group to gather and consolidate input from their constituent's input. Following consideration of any committee input, the Board reaches a final decision on the adjustment.

The Board establishes member notification and effective dates for any dues adjustment. The effective date must be no less than 60 calendar days and no more than 365 calendar days following the member notification date.

10 Membership Termination

The X12 Bylaws (CAP01) allow for Board approved termination of a membership. In such cases, the terminated member's primary representative must be notified of the decision and the basis for the decision within five calendar days of the vote to terminate the membership. All member privileges are suspended eleven calendar days after such notice is delivered, unless an appeal has been filed. The terminated member may appeal the termination in accordance with the Member Termination Appeal Procedure section below. If an appeal is filed in accordance with the procedures, member privileges is not suspended pending the outcome of the appeal. An organization terminated under this clause is eligible to reapply for membership at a later time; however, any later application must be accompanied by a written statement that addresses the circumstances that led to the termination and actions the applicant has taken or plans to take to avoid a similar circumstance going forward.

11 Member Termination Appeal Procedure

This section details the process steps for submitting, adjudicating, and disseminating the decision related to an appeal by a terminated member.

1. The primary representative of a member seeking to appeal the Board's decision to terminate their membership (the appellant) must appeal the termination in writing within ten calendar days of receipt of the notice of termination. The appeal must be sent to ceo@x12.org. The appeal must include the specific reason(s) the appellant believes the termination was unwarranted. The X12 CEO is responsible for coordinating the appeal process and documenting the decision.
2. Upon receipt of an appeal, the X12 CEO sends an acknowledgement of receipt to the appellant and notifies the Board of the appeal.
3. Within five calendar days of receipt of an appeal, X12 CEO nominates, and the Board confirms, an Appeal Committee consisting of at least three and not more than five member representatives, who were not directly involved in the decision to terminate the membership. The X12 CEO is a non-voting participant on the Appeal Committee.
4. Within five calendar days of the formation of the Appeal Committee, the X12 CEO provides the Appeal Committee with the notice of termination, the appeal, and any supporting documentation.
5. Within five calendar days of receipt of the information, the Appeal Committee convenes to discuss the termination and appeal. The Appeal Committee's deliberations are conducted in a closed session and attendance is limited to the Appeal Committee itself. After consideration, the Appeal Committee decides to either uphold or overrule the termination. The Appeal Committee's decision is final.

- a. The appellant has the burden of demonstrating the termination was unwarranted.
 - b. The Appeal Committee may reach a decision in a single session or adjourn and reconvene as necessary to reach a decision; however, the decision must be rendered no later than ten calendar days after the Appeal Committee received the information.
 - c. At the discretion of the Appeal Committee, the appellant, the Board Chair, or another relevant party may be invited to respond to questions or provide additional information.
6. Within three calendar days of the decision, the X12 CEO renders the committee's decision in writing to the Board and the appellant.
 7. The Appeal Committee is automatically disbanded when the appeal decision is communicated.

12 Terminology

To ensure consistent use of terms, definitions, and acronyms across X12 products and activities, X12 maintains the Wordbook, a comprehensive corporate glossary. The included terms are either proprietary to X12, cite definitions published by another authority, or represent common terms and definitions that are relevant to X12's work. The terms and definitions defined in the Wordbook must be used in X12 work products when applicable, without modification or revision. The Wordbook can be referenced online at wordbook.x12.org.
