

Accredited Standards Committee Mission

The Accredited Standards Committee (ASC) is responsible for developing, maintaining, and interpreting X12 standards eligible for submission as American National Standards or UN/EDIFACT International Electronic Data Interchange Standards. The ASC is also responsible for developing, maintaining, and interpreting technical reports based on the X12 standards it maintains.

Document History

New versions are effective on the approval date.

Effective	Description
08/18/20	V2: Revised the second sentence for consistency with the first sentence.
02/16/17	Initial version based on the long-standing unnamed scope statement.