Candidate Statement 2021

EDI is the cornerstone of modern B2B commerce, and during this COVID pandemic, EDI has proven to be the key mission critical link to the supply chain. Through the decades of hard work at X12, trillions of transactions have facilitated business automation. From procurement, to automotive, to petroleum, finance and healthcare, X12 leads the way to productivity, accuracy and cost savings.

As an EDI developer since 1996, I have sought to foster a vibrant, innovative market that delivers tools and services to end users and service providers. As much of the standard is stable and solid, I look to lead X12 into the next great era as the steward and promoter of the expanding usage of this great standard.
